Rules of Assessment

Direct entry students must pass ALL 120 CREDITS of the final year to obtain an honours degree (i.e. 1st, 2:1, 2:2, 3rd).

If you fail any module, you must retake it to get your degree, EVEN IF you have a high enough year mark.

Assessment structure

Autumn Modules:

Spring Modules:

Midterm Test –
November/December 2026

Midterm Test –
February/March 2027

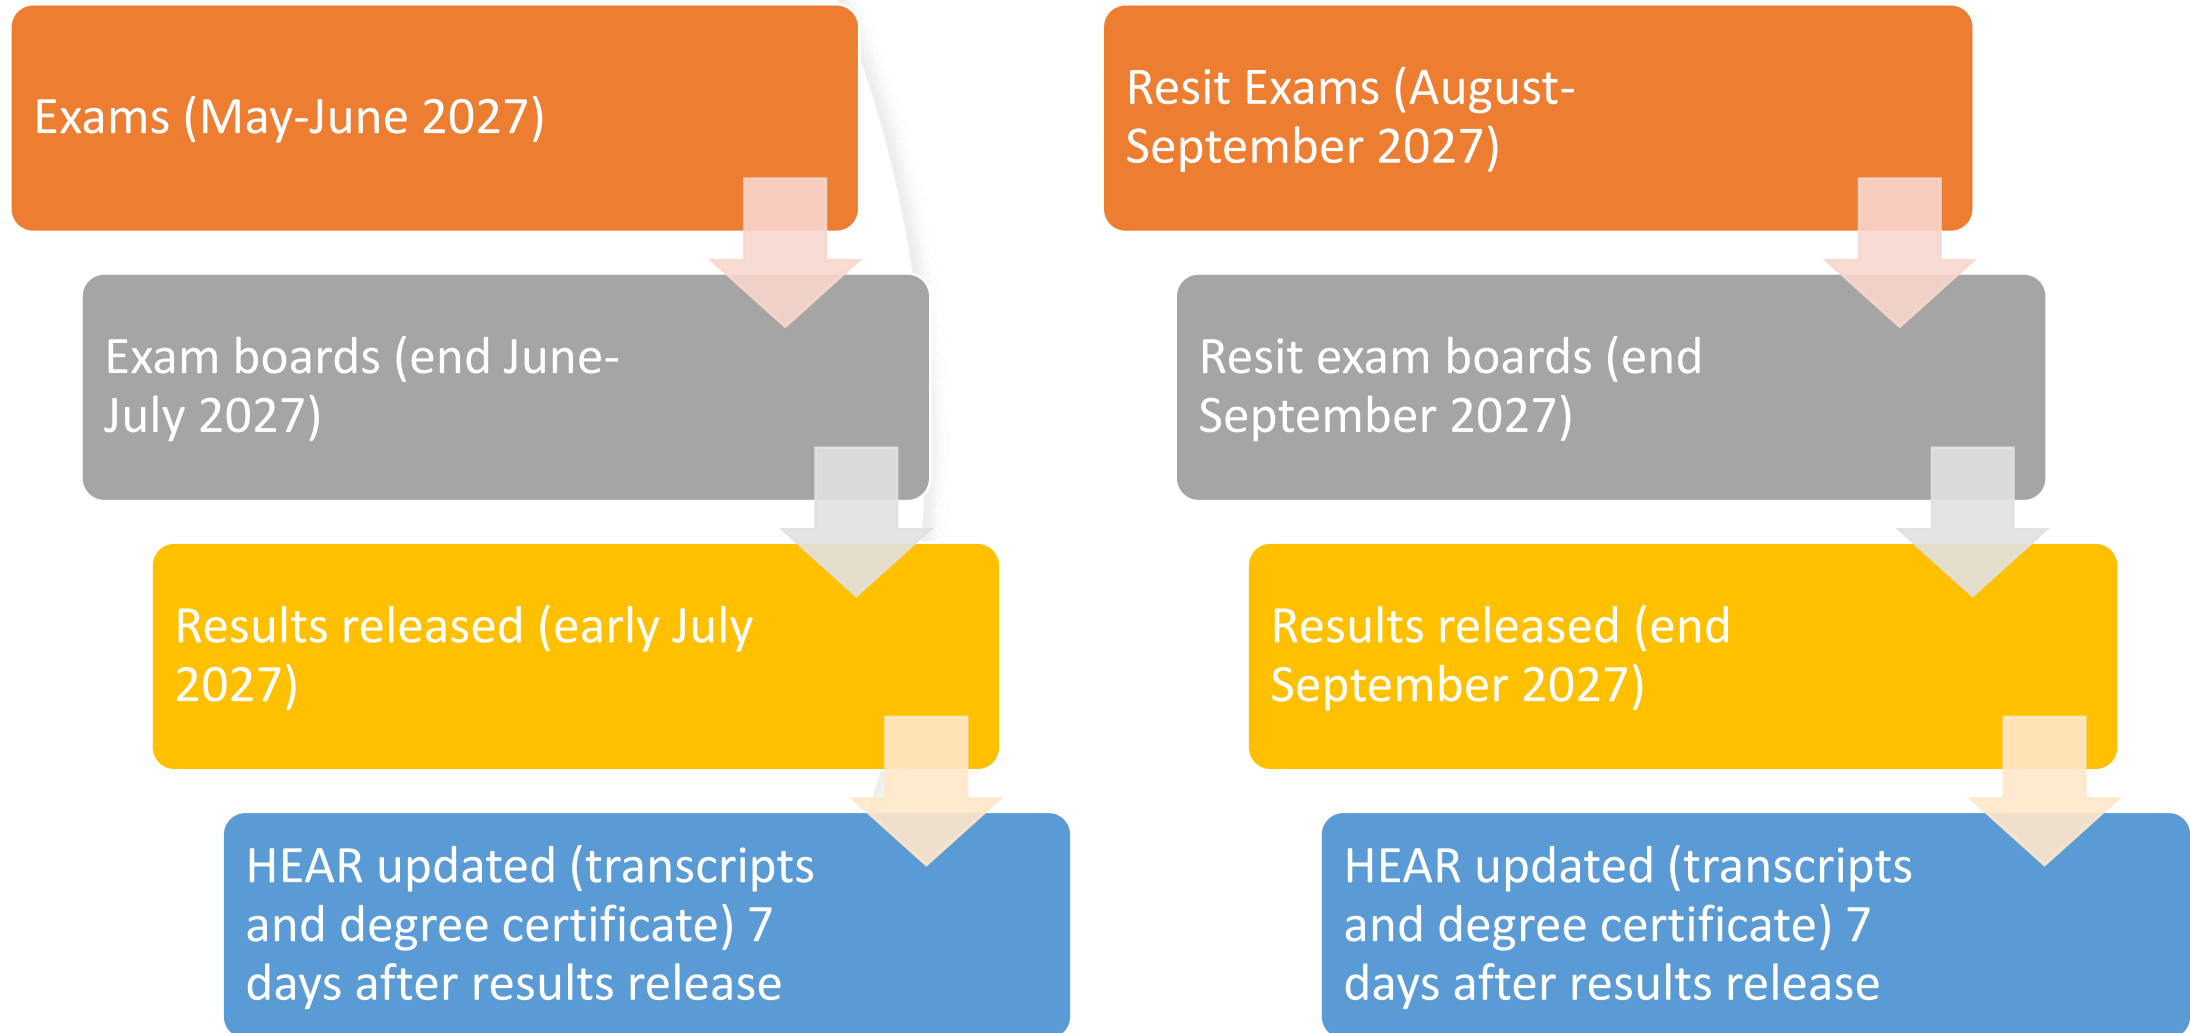

Exam – May/June 2027

Exam – May/June 2027

Coursework mark transcripts

- Consider the timing of your postgraduate application
- No updates with new marks
- 10 working day turnaround

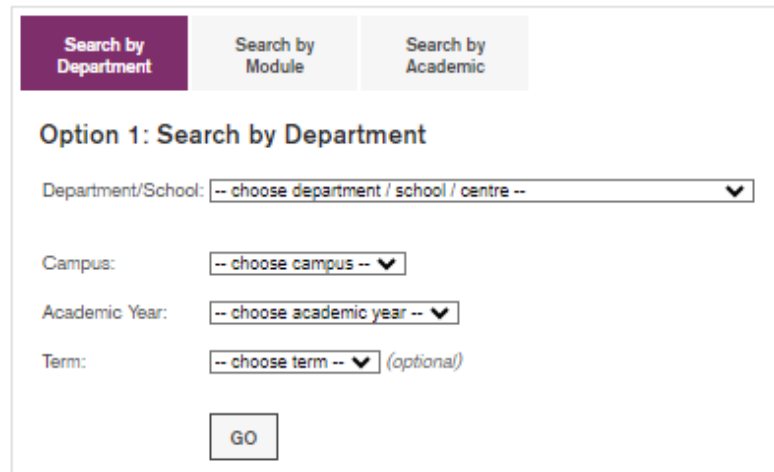

Choosing Modules

Other departments may not offer “in term” make-up tests!

You can go to any lecture/class in the first two weeks of term to see which modules you like best.

Choose/change your modules in MyEssex

<https://www1.essex.ac.uk/depttimetables/>

The screenshot shows the 'Search by Department' section of the MyEssex website. It features three tabs: 'Search by Department' (selected), 'Search by Module', and 'Search by Academic'. Under the 'Search by Department' tab, there is a section titled 'Option 1: Search by Department'. This section contains four dropdown menus: 'Department/School: -- choose department / school / centre --', 'Campus: -- choose campus --', 'Academic Year: -- choose academic year --', and 'Term: -- choose term -- (optional)'. A 'GO' button is located at the bottom of the search form.

Enrol deadline: 8:59am BST
on Monday 26 October 2026

module	failure rate (%)
BE130	38
MA320	33

If you want to change a module that is "core" or "compulsory" it may be best to change your course.

Attendance

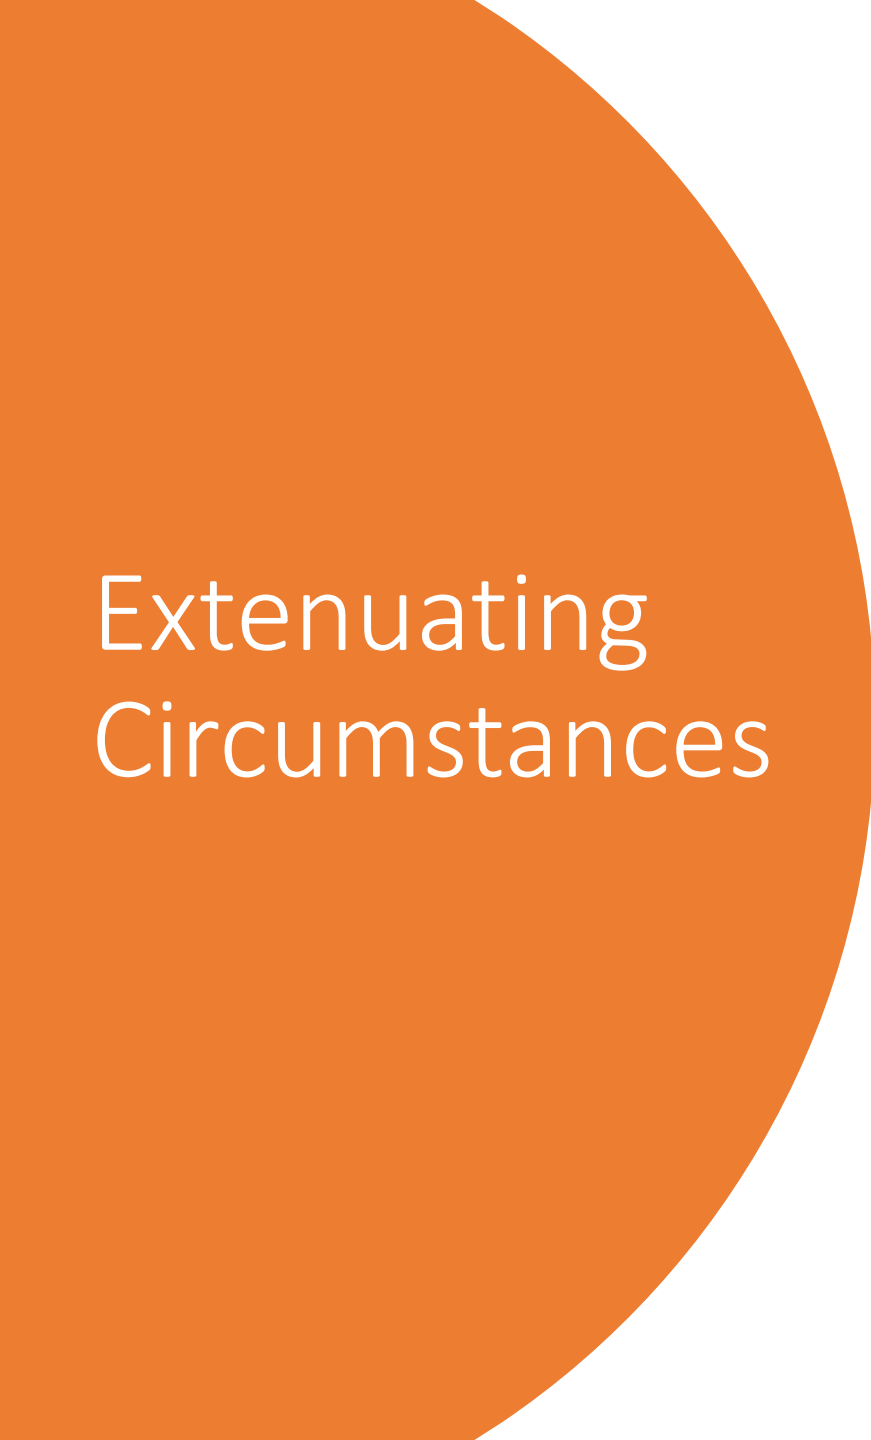

- Attendance does NOT impact marks
- Notified absence from teaching (MyEssex)
- Class clashes

Fix a clash

- Lectures and classes can't be rescheduled – there is only lecture and one class per module
- If you have a clash, you should choose another optional module that doesn't clash
- Look at department timetable
- Always go to a test! Submit a notified absence if you are missing a lecture or class for your test.

Extenuating Circumstances

If you cannot submit coursework, take a test, or take an exam because you:

- Have an ongoing, long-term health condition
- Suffer a serious injury
- Have serious personal problems
- Are suffering with poor mental health

You can submit an extenuating circumstances claim

- Link to the form is on My Essex
 - Give a detailed description of your situation
 - Select ALL modules affected
 - Provide evidence if you have it but this is NOT essential
